This is one of a series of reports presenting the findings of the 1933 Census of American Business. The statistics were collected in 1934 by a field canvass of retail stores in every State, city and county in the United States, with funds provided by the Federal Civil Works Administration. They cover the operations of retailers during the year 1933.

Arrangement of contents is as follows:

Text and description of tables.....	Page I
Table 4A--U. S. Summary--Number of stores and sales, by size of store, by kinds of business.....	Page 1
Table 4--(For each individual State)--Number of stores and sales, by size of store, by kinds of business.....	Pages 5 to 53

The reports are prepared under the supervision of Fred A. Gosnell, Chief Statistician for the Census of American Business, by John Guernsey, in charge of Retail Distribution. Assistance in the preparation of statistical tables was rendered by William A. Ruff, Assistant Chief Statistician, and James O. Reid, Retail Assistant.

CENSUS OF AMERICAN BUSINESS: 1933

RETAIL STORES AND SALES, ANALYZED BY SIZE OF BUSINESS

The data on retail stores gathered in connection with the Census of American Business for 1933 have been analyzed to determine what changes have taken place since 1929 in stores of various size-classes and what proportion of the stores enumerated for 1933 (early in 1934) were in existence in 1929 and what proportion have been opened since the date of the previous Census.

It was shown in earlier reports 1/ that retail sales volume in terms of dollars declined nearly 50 percent from 1929 to 1933, although the number of stores remained virtually unchanged. The decline was not uniform. For filling stations, variety stores, department stores, drug stores, food stores and eating places, the decline ranged from 25 to about 40 percent; in contrast the sales of apparel stores, furniture stores, jewelry stores, motor vehicle dealers and lumber dealers declined on the average more than 50 percent, and in some instances as much as 70 percent.

How much of the decline in dollar sales is attributable to the drop in the general level of retail prices cannot be ascertained with any precision, except possibly for food stores. The Bureau of Labor Statistics index of retail food prices, although differing somewhat in commodity coverage, affords a clear indication that practically the entire reduction in the dollar volume of food store sales is accounted for by the drop in food prices. 2/

For retail trade as a whole, no significant change has occurred in the four-year interval in the distribution of business between stores in large cities and stores in small-town and rural areas. 3/

Proportion of Stores by Size

The analyses presented in this report indicate that more than 64 percent of all stores in 1933 did less than $10,000 of annual business and accounted in the aggregate for 13.85 percent of the total of retail sales. In contrast, nearly one-half of the business was done in 85,531 stores whose annual sales exceeded $50,000 each, although they constituted only 5.61 percent of the total number of stores.

The table above, presenting a comparison by size groups of stores and sales in 1933 and in 1929, conceals a remarkable parallel between the two years which is disclosed when adjustment is made for the 50 percent decline in sales volume.

In 1933, 64.36 percent of all stores did an annual business of less than $10,000. Using the $20,000 classification for 1929 the corresponding proportion of stores doing less than $20,000 in 1929 is 63.93 percent. The sales of these stores accounted for 13.85 percent of the total volume of business done in 1933, and for 14.73 percent of the total volume in 1929.

Stores of less than $50,000 annual volume in 1933 constituted 94.39 percent of the total number of stores in 1933 and did 52.13 percent of total sales in that year. In comparison, the stores of less than $100,000 in 1929 constituted 94.97 percent of all stores in 1929 and they did 54.83 percent of total sales.

Similar direct comparison can be made between classifications of $10,000 to $50,000, $50,000 to $100,000 and $100,000 to $500,000 in 1933, and classifications of twice those amounts in 1929. It is evident there has been no more than a minor shift of business from one size group to another. A summary follows:

	Percent of all stores
	Number	Sales
Stores of less than $10,000 in 1933	64.36	13.85
Stores of less than $20,000 in 1929	63.93	14.73
Stores of less than $20,000 in 1933	81.43	28.37
Stores of less than $40,000 (est.) in 1929	82.04	28.78
Stores of less than $50,000 in 1933	94.39	52.13
Stores of less than $100,000 in 1929	94.97	54.83
Stores of $10,000 to $50,000 in 1933	30.03	38.28
Stores of $20,000 to $100,000 in 1929	31.04	40.10
Stores of $50,000 to $100,000 in 1933	3.65	14.96
Stores of $100,000 to $200,000 in 1929	3.21	14.70
Stores of $100,000 to $500,000 in 1933	1.82	19.48
Stores of $200,000 to $1,000,000 in 1929	1.68	19.13

Table 4B, herewith, shows similar information for 1933 for each geographic division and for each State.

Size by Kinds of Business

There is much more variation in size between 1929 and 1933 when the totals are analyzed by kinds of business. With this report is a table showing for the United States as a whole the number of stores and sales in each of the 51 business classifications, by size groups. Similar tables (4A and 4B) were contained in the 1929 Retail Census Summary. 4/

The food group of stores, averaging in sales $14,331 per store, is predominantly a small store group, with 62.2 percent of all stores doing less than $10,000 per year and only 1.2 percent doing as much as $100,000 per year. Meat markets and combination stores show a larger proportion of stores over $10,000 than any other kind of business in the food field.

All department stores by definition exceed $100,000 of sales per store, whereas 51.1 percent of dry-goods and general-merchandise stores do less than $10,000 of business per year. Most of the sales (91.2 percent) of variety stores are done by the chains, but the remaining 8.8 percent is divided among 6,572 independent variety stores, of which 4,778 do less than $10,000 of business.

Even among apparel stores more than one-half do less than $10,000 of business per store, but there is a considerable variation in this proportion in some kinds of business in the apparel field.

The great majority of filling stations, motor-supply houses and garages are in the small-store classification with sales of less than $10,000 per year per store. However, nearly 20 percent of all motor vehicle dealers do more than $100,000 of business per year each.

About 40 percent of furniture stores do less than $10,000 per year, but their sales are less than 6 percent of the total. Almost one-half of the business of furniture stores is done by 6 percent of the stores, with sales exceeding $100,000 each. Other classifications in the furniture group, however, are predominantly small stores of less than $10,000 of annual sales.

About 31 percent of all lumber and building material dealers report a business of less than $10,000 per year, although in aggregate the small yards do hardly more than 5 percent of the total business of lumber dealers. Other classifications in the lumber and building group show considerably more than 50 percent of their stores in the under-$10,000 group. Even in the case of hardware stores 58 percent do less than $10,000 each of business per year.

Eating places in all classifications are essentially small-volume establishments with about 83 percent doing less than $10,000 per year and accounting for 35 percent of the total business.

Nearly 43 percent of all drug stores do less than $10,000 per year, but these small stores account for only 12 percent of drug-store sales. More than 1,000 drug stores do an annual business exceeding $100,000 per year.

4/ - "Retail Distribution, Summary for the United States: 1929", obtainable from Superintendent of Documents, Washington: price 20 cents.

Of 14,313 jewelry stores throughout the country, 10,506 do less than $10,000 of business annually and account for 22.8 percent of total jewelry-store sales. In contrast, 228 stores exceed $100,000 of annual sales and account for $49,226,000 or 28 percent of total sales. Four stores each did more than $1,000,000 of sales in 1933.

Although in general it is a correct conclusion that nearly two-thirds of all stores did no more than $10,000 of business in 1933, and that their aggregate sales amounted to about one-seventh of total retail sales, the instances cited above show that there are many kinds of business to which these general conclusions do not apply. Table 4A on the following page provides a detailed analysis of stores and sales by size and kind of business.

FOOTNOTES

The following qualifications apply to the footnote references in Tables 4A and 4C of this report:

Fruit Stores and Vegetable Markets -- Totals include data for one wholesale establishment in Rhode Island with sales of $720,000, which are not included in the detail of size-columns.

The total column includes data for certain wholesalers not distributed to size-columns as follows--

Other Food Stores -- Six stores, 74 full-time employees, sales $2,454,000, (Minnesota).

Farmers' Supply Stores -- One store, 3 full-time employees, 2 proprietors, sales $850,000, (District of Columbia).

Floor Coverings, Drapery and Upholstery Stores -- One store, 489 full-time employees, sales $1,591,000 (Illinois). Two stores, sales $1,186,000 (Pennsylvania).

Hardware and Farm Implement Stores -- One store, 24 full-time employees, 3 proprietors, sales $1,000,000 (Texas).

The totals for Household Appliance Stores and Radio Stores differ from those shown in certain other tables to the extent of 11 stores, 992 full-time employees, and sales of $3,-131,000 because of an error in Illinois in classifying these 11 electrical-appliance stores as radio stores.

1/ Totals are in excess by one store and sales of $1,591,000, due to error in machine tabulation. Error discovered too late to make adjustments.

2/ These totals differ from certain other tables because of the correction of an error in classifying eleven household appliance stores with total sales of $3,131,000 as radio stores.
